

Features of new version

The check for chat permissions when initializing the chat plugin has been implemented. Now the plugin is loaded in the QUIK Workstation only for those users who have chat permissions. For all other users, the plugin will not be displayed in the terminal interface.

